MURDERER OF BOYS IS EXECUTED

"SEE YOU AGAIN" SAYS SLAYER AS KNIFE DESCENDS

German Male Human Vampire Who Killed 24 Boys Is Beheaded by Guillotine

ADMITTED SLAYING YOUTHS

Had Promised to Make Full Confession Revealing Others, But Waited Too Long

(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch
HANOVER, Germany, April 15. (INS)—"Auf wieder sehen."
These were the last words of Fritz Haarmann, human vampire and wholesale slayer of young men, as the sharp blade of the guillotine severed his head from his body in the prison yard at dawn today.
The blade cut short a speech which Haarmann had planned to address to court officials and some forty citizens who witnessed the execution.
With one death, justice exacted the utmost penalty it could from the man who was officially sentenced to die twenty-four times—once for each of the victims he had murdered.
The chief executioner was clad in a somber full dress suit such as is customary on such an occasion. It took only a few seconds for the man whose criminal record is without parallel to be no more.
ARRANGED IN SECRET.

The execution was arranged with great secrecy. Haarmann was only informed of his impending death last night. He took the news calmly, as he did the whole trial, having apparently as little regard for his own life as he had for his victims.
"I have sinned much and I die willingly," he said.

He spent all of last night in prayer with clergyman. He weakened toward morning but soon recovered himself. Shortly before 6 o'clock "Poor Sinners' bell," began to toll and Haarmann was led out to the guillotine, still clad in his striped prison clothes.

He took off his coat and freed his neck himself, saying:
"Heavy is the way but I am willing to go for I know I have atoned for my great guilt."
"SEE YOU AGAIN" DIES.

He stood calmly before the guillotine, but winced when the executioner's assistants seized him to strap him to the board.

"Careful, gentlemen," he warned. Then he opened his mouth for his speech, but seeing the executioner releasing the knife he merely exclaimed:
"See you again."

Hans Grans, the accomplice of Haarmann, is awaiting the outcome of his appeal.

Haarmann had promised to make a full confession before his death and reveal many other murders, but if he committed them he took the secret to his grave.

Boy Scout Talk At Rotary Club

A talk on Boy Scout work will be given at the Rotary club luncheon on Friday by Homer Bemis, scout executive of Oakland, and also a member of the Oakland Rotary club. The Richmond Boy Scouts will put on stunts at the luncheon as members of the Richmond Rotarians have interested themselves in a Scout troop.

Harley Carter will be in charge of the gavel. J. E. George, scout executive of the county, and Scout Master Patterson, of Richmond troop No. 3, will be special guests of the club.

CULT HEAD'S HILARITY AS DOCTOR TOLD

Describing scenes of hilarity created by the fourteen students of "Bishop" Cospier, former Oakland cult head, while he conducted a clinic at her home from 5 o'clock in the morning on August 28, last, until 5 o'clock the following morning, Mrs. Otto Dietrich, told the jury of Cospier's methods of "healing" while on the stand yesterday in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado.

Mrs. Dietrich is complaining witness. Through an interpreter, the woman testified that while she lay suffering in one room, the students Cospier had summoned to the "clinic" amused themselves by telling stories, laughing and otherwise enjoying themselves.

COSPIER JOKES

When Cospier failed to bring her relief as he had promised by late in the afternoon of August 28, Mrs. Dietrich said, the hilarity died down. In response to questioning, she said, Cospier used physical means to aid her, but that at no time did he pray or have others offer prayers. Cospier joked many times with the students, the witness said, and aroused much laughter by his wit, Mrs. Dietrich testified.

Nine of the fourteen followers of the alleged cult leader, were identified by the witness when asked to stand up in the court room. Their names were obtained and entered into the records. It is thought they will be asked to testify by the defense. Mrs. Dietrich testified she was in a delicate condition at the time of the "clinic." Her sufferings were intense during much of the alleged fun-making carried on by the students of Cospier, she told the jury. Her child was born August 29.

FOLLOWERS AMUSED
Mrs. Dietrich always referred to Cospier as "doctor." She explained that she understood that he was a physician and had him attend her in that capacity and not as a "healer" through prayer. It was at her home in Richmond where

"The Dawning" to Be Repeated at Wesley Church

Owing to popular demand of the public, the great Easter pageant, "The Dawning," produced so successfully last Sunday evening, will be repeated next Sunday evening at the Wesley Methodist church, corner Ninth street and Sevin avenue, according to announcement made yesterday by W. J. Osborne, director of the pageant.

Starting promptly at 7:30 next Sunday evening, the pageant will take the place of the regular evening sermon service, and will be reproduced in every particular just as it was presented last Sunday, with the entire cast of over forty local people participating. The same special music program will accompany the pageant.

More than three hundred people who were turned away from the church last Sunday, owing to the lack of standing room, will now find an opportunity of seeing "The Dawning," the performance "par excellence," which has won so much high praise because of the excellent performance of the cast.

BATTLE FLEET LEAVES HARBOR FOR WAR GAME

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—The greatest fleet of American warcraft ever assembled departed from San Francisco shortly before noon today enroute to the Hawaiian Islands, where elaborate and extended maneuvers of the combined Atlantic and Pacific fleets will be held.

Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, the commander-in-chief, sailed for Honolulu yesterday aboard his flagship, the U. S. S. Seattle. The balance of the fleet, 144 warships and auxiliaries, manned by 45,000 officers and men, under command of Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, aboard the U. S. S. California, took four hours to pass through the Golden Gate.

The object of the maneuvers is to "capture" the Hawaiian Islands from the American army forces stationed there.

Enroute to the islands the fleet will be drilled in the various formations. The maneuvers will be performed in true war-time style with the radio silenced and all ships darkened at night.

DAWES GIVES BIOGRAPHY OF GENL. PERSHING

Vice-President Defines Capitalist, Bourgeoisie and Proletariat Meanings

AT LUNCHEON IN CHICAGO

Story of Pershing's Experiences in Various War Maneuvers Is Related by Dawes

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, April 15.—Vice-President Charles G. Dawes, turned biographer today. Besides himself, he included in his biographical sketches General John J. Pershing and William Jennings Bryan.

Introducing General Pershing at the luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce today, Vice-President Dawes recalled his early association with the subjects of his sketch in "Don Cameron's Lunch Room in Lincoln, Neb."

"There was no question at that time that William Jennings Bryan, the great Commoner, represented the organized forces of predatory plutocracy, for Bryan lived in a two-story house on D street, the gift of his father.

"I represented the bourgeoisie. I lived in a two room cottage on D street.

"John Pershing emphatically represented the proletariat, for John lived in a $10 a month room.

PERSHING'S SENSE OF DUTY

"John Pershing was just as much obsessed in those days with a sense of duty as he was when commander in chief of the A. E. F. He kept his eye on the ball instead of the bleachers.

"When I was in the Treasury Department, a young man 32 years old, and he a lieutenant—I think you were," aside to Pershing, "he came to me one day and said he had been offered the place of chief of the insular bureau of the War Department. 'Of course,' I said, 'you are going to take it.' Everybody your rank or near it wants that job."

"I'm not going to take it," he said. "I am in the army to be a soldier; if I'm going to make a soldier of myself I must go where they do soldiering."

WENT TO PHILIPPINES.

"He went to the Philippines and it fell to him as a captain to subjugate the island of Mindanao. The laws of the army did not permit his promotion from a captaincy to beyond a majority, so President Roosevelt promoted him to be a brigadier-general, as he deserved.

"When he asked President Wilson why he had been chosen to command the expedition against Villa—there was the chance every day of precipitating war between Mexico and the United States. John Pershing brought the troops back and saved war with Mexico.

"Just before he sailed for France I had lunch with him and Charley McGoon, another Lincoln man, at the Metropolitan Club. McGoon told him that if he succeeded he would come back the greatest American hero.

"Name one man," Pershing said in reply, "in command in all the allied armies at the start of the war who is in command today I'm going to plug along and do each day the tasks that are to be done."

HONORED BY AMERICA.

"The American people honor him and always will honor him. John J. Pershing gives the best that is in him at all times and under all circumstances." General Pershing, pressed for time to catch a train, threatened "one of the South."

Lumber and Oil Industries Race For First Place in California

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—The Department of Commerce announces that, according to a summarization of the data collected at the biennial census of manufactures 1923, the value of products (at factory prices) of manufacturing establishments in California aggregated $2,216,639,000. This aggregation represents an increase of 26 per cent as compared with $1,758,582,000 in 1921.

These figures relate to manufacturing establishments whose output during the year was valued at $5,000 or more. The elimination of data for the smaller establishments has only a slight effect on the totals. In making use of the statistics for value of products, it must be remembered that, because of the fact that the products of many manufacturing establishments are used as materials by other establishments, the aggregate value of the products of all manufacturing industries combined is considerably in excess of the total value of finished manufactured products in the form in which they reach the ultimate consumer.

The average number of wage earners employed during 1923, 246,985, exceeded by 24.5 per cent the number reported for 1921, 198,334; and the total wage payments in 1923, $353,265,000, show an increase of 24.2 per cent as compared with $284,373,000 in 1921.

The "lumber and timber products" industry (embracing logging camps and saw mills), is the leading one in California, as measured by number of wage earners. In this industry the average number of wage earners employed during the census year increased from 19,290 in 1921 to 24,772 in 1923, the per cent of increase being 28.4.

Measured by total value of products, however, the petroleum-refining industry is the most important in the State. This industry, which employed only 7,106 wage earners in 1923—less than one-third as many as were employed by the "lumber and timber products" industry—reported a total output valued at $208,383,000, an increase of 3.3 per cent over the 1921 total, $201,746,000.

Building Permits Issued Yesterday

M. Morken will erect a $3500 one-story cottage on McLaughlin, between Barrett and Roosevelt avenues, with Waring and Pimm doing the construction work, according to permit issued by Building Inspector E. E. Grow, yesterday.

Building permits were also obtained by Esther Butler to replace the foundation on her home on Ripley avenue at a cost of $166, Tandy and Thiel will do the work. John Viano will add a $165 screen porch to his cottage on Eighth street. W. A. Jones will build the new addition.

These days to turn tables on Charlie Dawes for this exaggeration.

"I understand," the General declared in a jocular vein, "that he is reverting to the old custom of our days in Lincoln and eating ham and eggs."

In his prepared address, General Pershing discussed trade and business relations with South America, declaring that regular ocean service under the flag of the United States "is essential to proper growth of commercial and social relations between this country and the Republics of the South."

SENATE MOVE FOR NEW VOTE IS ABANDONED

Sharkey Changes His Mind on Motion for Reconsideration Of Breed Bill

BILL GOES TO ASSEMBLY

Vote Expected Early Next Week On Gasoline Tax Boost Bill Before The House

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—The fight in the Senate against the Breed gasoline tax increase was abandoned today by the opposition to the measure.

At the last moment tonight before adjournment Senator Will R. Sharkey, leader of the opponents, announced that he had decided not to make his motion for reconsideration of the vote by which the bill passed the upper house yesterday.

The bill, under the rules, had been held up today on that notice, which Senator Sharkey gave immediately upon announcement of the vote by which the measure was carried.

He had changed his vote then from "no" to "aye" in order to stop the sending of the bill immediately to the Assembly.

GOES TO ASSEMBLY

It now goes automatically to that house and Senator Breed said, he expected that it would be on the floor early in the coming week the last of the present session of the Legislature.

All day there was a checking up of member in the Senate by the opposition to determine whether or not enough of them could be switched to supply the necessary 21 votes to get a reconsideration of the bill and a possible renewal of the contest over it.

That check did not produce enough votes, according to good authority. It was stated that two of the members who had voted against the bill yesterday would refuse to reopen the fight. As 21 were needed and the tally yesterday gave them an actual 19 this reduced the possibility of a majority so considerably that it had much to do with the decision of the opposition to abandon the contest in the Senate.

Gas Company To Extend Mains To New Consumers

Pacific Gas and Electric company is preparing to extend 1800 feet of three inch high pressure gas main in Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, Barrett and Nevin avenues, to supply Mrs. A. Oakley, Henry L. Harris, A. Banducci, L. M. Henselt, R. F. Johnson, F. L. Lea, Mrs. E. M. Summers, Charles Shields and W. D. Carter.

According to J. C. Hitchcock, local agent of the company, this extension will involve an expenditure of $2150. Hitchcock also states that the growth of the company's gas business over the entire territory served, is most gratifying and indicates the development of the territory served.

Comparing the month of February 1925, with the same month of 1924, the business has increased 8.21 per cent.

BAROMETER OF WESTERN PROSPERITY

During 1924 United States ports shipped 1,906,418,000 board feet of lumber, an increase of three per cent over 1923, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Exports of Douglas fir lumber showed an increase of 1105,566 M. feet over 1923. Yellow pine lumber increased 18,093 M. feet, while yellow pine timber showed an increase of some 4,000 M. feet.

During 1922, the lumber industry earned a net taxable income amounting to $207,995,927.

Freight loadings of forest products for the first two months of 1925, were slightly lower than for the same period of 1924, but were considerable larger than for 1923.

Water shipments of lumber from the Pacific Northwest in 1924 increased 4.4 per cent over 1923, and totaled 4,465,391,941 feet. Shipments to the Atlantic coast were 36.7 per cent higher than in 1923, and shipments to China increased 64 per cent.

The lumber industry rises as a barometer of business conditions in western states and has a direct bearing on the prosperity of millions of people. It is for this reason that the man on the street should interest himself in working for conditions that protect and encourage this great industry.

MOSQUITO SWATTING

A few years ago a "swat-the-fly" campaign in many cities greatly lessened the numbers of this pest. A health official in New Orleans is urging upon his fellow-citizens a similar campaign directed against the mosquito. Of course, in the mosquito season every pestered mortal swats perpetually and indiscriminately. But anophelines and her relatives are not so easily vanquished by this method as the common house fly. Many a vacation holiday has been ruined by the mosquito's ravages and many an otherwise enjoyable park or home yard has been rendered unusable because of the mosquito's presence.

Dr. Leckert, the New Orleans health worker, simply points again to the well known fact that mosquito elimination begins at the breeding places. A lot of worthy families raise their own mosquitoes to their distress. Breeding pools may lurk in as small a receptacle as a discarded tin can, an old flower pot, a clogged gutter on the roof or a leaky drain.

The remedy is simplicity itself. All the mosquito-hunter has to do is to get rid of these little pools, dispose of tin cans and old flower pots properly, or pour a little oil into any stagnant pool which he cannot drain. It would take more than one season of such mosquito hunting to exterminate the pest entirely, but a single season's work should make a noble start.

IS THE IDEA GOOD FOR AMERICA?

Russia faces another terrible famine. Failing to derive sufficient revenues from its assassinated farms and industries, the Soviet government last fall made the great bluff of selling the national grain supply abroad; to get money to pay its own dangerous army and politicians. Now, the people are starving, there is neither money nor credit to buy back grain from other nations, and another payday approaches. What Russia has suffered in the past may be mere inconvenience compared to the terrors yet in store when this terrible political army, facing an empty treasury, starts in to collect its pay from a helpless people.

Under the Soviet definition, it seems that any man who owns a home, a farm, a horse, a spade, is a capitalist to be enslaved or de-spooled. That seems to work fairly well for the armed politicians, so long as there is enough property to pay their wage. But the farmers who grow the grain and meat and wool and vegetables set to get astonishingly little above a starvation diet out of the Soviet plan.

SMOKELESS INDUSTRIES

A recent report by the U. S. Bureau of Mines places the annual loss caused by smoke in industrial centers at $7.66 per capita, and the Smoke Abatement Commission, after a detailed analysis of conditions in Chicago, puts that city's yearly smoke loss at more than $42,000,000. To this must be added the human loss due to injured health and resulting deaths.

Similar reports from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and other cities emphasize the national danger and waste caused by smoke.

Gas and coke, both smokeless fuels, must be substituted for soft coal to produce a pure and healthy atmosphere, and their use will make possible the saving of valuable by-products of coal combustion that are now wasted and whose value amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

THE BREAD AND BUTTER INDUSTRY

The lumber industry is maintaining a normal degree of activity. Mills are receiving large orders and speeding up production.

DISHES QUAINLY NAMED

Bubble and Squeak

IN these days when we do so much to make over left-over meats attractively, this historic old dish ought to be of interest. It calls for thin slices of cold roast beef, cold mashed potatoes, cold spinach or beet greens and a little chopped onion. Trim the slices of beef to free from fat and gristle. Melt some beef dripping in a frying-pan and fry the slices of beef to a nice brown and remove, keeping warm in the oven. Now throw the onion into the pan and slightly brown. Add the mashed potatoes and the greens, which have been chopped fine, and stir until very hot. Place this on a hot dish and place the slices of meat on top.

Pies in Blankets

Wrap a strip of bacon around a raw oyster, and fasten it with a tiny wooden skewer, or with a toothpick or sharpened match stick. Then drop the whole thing in deep fat and fry until the bacon is crisp. These are sometimes called, also, bangers on horseback.

THE SHORT GLOVE

The short glove is in vogue—the glove cut off at the wrist, and finished with some sort of cuff. Sometimes it is a turn-back cuff, in which of course it turns well down over the hand. Sometimes it is a strap, with a buckle. Sometimes the glove ends merely with a scalloped edge. One such glove ends in a narrow cuff bound with silk braid, the ends of the cuff held together with link cuff buttons in brown pearl. White gloves of this short type are often embroidered and bound with black kid.

of January. February building permit reports from 364 cities and towns, made to the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co., show a total of $281,016,826, against $301,898,236 in February, 1924. This loss was due mainly to slowing up of operations in New York City, some sections of the country showing gains as high as 43 per cent above February, 1924. "Keep the sawmill running," should be a Western slogan.

GOLDEN RULE IS WORKING

There has never been a time when the newspapers have played a more important part in the upbuilding of community life and business conditions than they have in the past two years and today their power for good is being felt in a way that will mean much in community development. In other words, we have reached the time now when all elements are pulling together, when not only petty jealousies that have hampered the growth of small communities have been set aside but when animosity and bickering between cities have been wiped out almost entirely, and one town today is only too glad to help another. —Southern California, Los Angeles.

HARD TO BELIEVE

An anomaly in the democratic ideas of the United States is our tolerance of the tax exempt bond permits one man to escape tax free at the expense of others who must pay taxes for him, as well as their own. Do we think?

The Fur Trimmed Collar Appears

For Spring and Summer.

THERE is no longer anything the least bit incongruous about the wearing of furs in summer. But we follow the example of the ermine, which has been wearing a coat of fur for winter, and one for summer. The cool weather at Palm Beach during late winter rather favored the fur dealers, and they report that never before have furs been so much worn during the season there. At northern resorts, where well-dressed women go for summer holidays, there will undoubtedly be the same vogue for fur pieces and fur-trimmed wraps. You may have felt that leopard was done to death during the winter. The smartest of sport coats have collars and cuffs of this pelt. After all these spotted furs belong to beasts who inhabit hot countries, so there is nothing inconsistent in our choosing to wear them in summer. From this point of view they do seem to be more appropriate for summer than the white pelts which are usually invariably carried as winter covering by animals.

The sketch shows two original fur pieces, especially designed for spring and summer. One is a scarf of cocoa fox with rosette and ends of brown satin ribbon. This may be used choker-wise around the neck or worn as a swaglet bit of trimming for the wrist. Below is the new vanity choker. It is likewise of cocoa fox. A tiny slit at one end holds a vanity case. An interesting little fur collar for spring and summer is a sort of ruff made of white and black monkey with a rose posed where the collar fastens at one side. Among the newest of scarfs for the warmer months are those of crepe de chine or other soft silk, trimmed with bandings or other devices of fur. One of taupe-colored crepe de chine shows discs of mole-skin placed at regular intervals along the ends.

Interestingly enough there is great demand for the fur scarf a few weeks hence than at the present time. The reason for this is that while women still wear coats or ensemble suits, they do not need furs. It is when they don street frock or two-piece suit that they feel the need of something to wear around their necks.

Scarf of cocoa fox trimmed with rosette and ends of brown satin ribbon. When it is not worn about the neck it is worn on the wrist. Below vanity choker of fox fur. A tiny slit in the fur holds the vanity case.

My Matrimonial Vacation

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Husband Tamer," "One Wife on Approval," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

NANCY LARRABEE, who remained in New York with her mother, VIRGINIA, while her husband, a young army officer, JIM LARRABEE, goes to the Philippines. They become estranged and she writes him that she wants to divorce him and marry Bill Ewing. She received a cablegram saying that Jim has died at sea, and realizes that it is Jim she loves.

The report of Jim's death is false, and he returns to New York, where Nancy meets him at the train, and finds that he apparently is as eager for a divorce as she was until she heard of his death.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XI—A DIFFICULT EVENING

I DRESSED with more care that evening than I had used before in months. Even though Jim didn't love me any more, I wanted to make the best possible impression.

I was determined to show him, before the evening was over, what he'd lost when he lost me. "Looking lovely tonight, Nancy," he remarked as I came into the sitting-room where he was waiting for me.

VIOLET DARE

There was about as much expression in his voice as if he'd said he liked the wallpaper.

I nodded and sat down on a couch near the window. "I suppose you and Cella have arranged everything," I said, trying to keep my voice from being shaky. "Really, it's as if we were all playing pummy wants a corner. I'm getting a divorce so that you can marry Cella, and she's getting one so that she can marry you."

"And you're getting one so that you can marry again," he cut in. "Oh no, I'm not going to marry again," I told him.

"You—what?" Oh well, of course, you don't mean that. "I wondered how I could convince him. Suddenly, more than anything else in the world I wanted to be his wife again. I realized more than I ever had before all that he meant to me. I wanted to be a real wife to him, a wife who kept house and more important still, kept home. I wanted to learn to sew and cook and dust and sweep."

I didn't want to be a society butterfly any longer. I wanted to be a good wife and a good mother. "And I had lost Jim. I couldn't ever be what I wanted to."

"Oh yes, I do mean it," I told him. "I'm through with marriage."

He laughed and lighted a cigarette. "Oh well, you'll soon change your mind," he said. "Say, I wonder where those fellows are; they're late. I think I'll run down to their rooms and hurry them along."

He was gone before I could stop him. It almost looked as if he wanted to get away from me. As a matter of fact, his friends who had come on the transport with him weren't late at all; it was fifteen minutes before the time he'd set for them to join us.

He came back in about twenty minutes with his friends, and we went to one of the big restaurants for dinner. I loathed the place; it was crowded and noisy, with a jazz band making such a racket that conversation was impossible most of the time.

"But I thought you liked jazz," Jim said when I protested. "You used to love it."

"I've had too much of it," I answered. "I want to spend all my time now in some quiet, restful place."

"Sounds as if you were looking for a cemetery," remarked one of Jim's friends. I wished that he and his companion were in Halitaea there they sat, completely spellbound, what would probably be my last evening alone with Jim.

We went to the theater afterward. It was a musical comedy, which I'd seen before, twice. I hardly knew what was going on on the stage; my thoughts were all of Jim.

During the intermission, he and one of his friends went out and smoked. The other man stayed and talked with me, telling me little anecdotes about life in the Philippines, where he'd been in Jim's regiment.

When Jim came back I asked him how it happened that I got a telegram from him signed "A. L."

"Don't know unless the girl at my hotel in San Francisco misinterpreted," he answered. "I telephoned down to the public stenographer and asked her to send it for me."

He hadn't even sent that wire himself! That was the last straw. I wished that I could hurt him, hurt him as much as he had hurt me. I devoted myself to his friends after that, though they seemed frightfully stupid to me.

In the theater lobby, as we were leaving, we encountered Virginia and Dad, with some friends. Virginia had come into the hotel in time to meet Jim, and was inclined to be very disagreeable because the report of his death wasn't true.

I had an opportunity to speak to her alone, and told her that she needn't worry, as I was going to get a divorce from Jim just as she wanted me to.

She promptly began to be very cordial to him, and urged that we all join her party for supper at one of the dance clubs.

Jim didn't want to go, but the others did.

"All right; we'll go for a while, and then I'll take the fellows along with me to a place I want to show them, and you can take Nancy on home with you later," he told Virginia.

Tomorrow—Jim's Plans.

Baked Apples and Cream
Cereal Omelet: Add 2 beaten eggs to 1 cup cold cooked farina from yesterday's breakfast, salt and 1 teaspoon chopped parsley. Turn into buttered omelet pan and proceed as with regular omelet.

Panned Oysters: Eighteen large oysters, one tablespoonful of butter, one of cracker crumbs, a speck of cayenne, one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Put the oysters on in their own liquor, and when they boil up add the above seasoning, together with pepper and salt. Cook one minute and serve on toast.

Fish Steaks, Stuffed: Buy slices of fish 1-2 inch in thickness. Arrange half the number of slices in a baking pan, on thin slices or strips of salt pork fat. Cover with a well-seasoned, bread crumb stuffing. Cover with remaining slices of fish. Sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper. Surround with left-over boiled potatoes, cut into fourths longwise. Arrange strips of salt pork fat on top and bake in a moderately hot oven about 30 minutes or until done. Garnish with lemon and parsley.

ASTRONOMICAL MAPS

The Chinese claim to have been the first to use the principle of astronomy, and their claim is to some extent borne out by the fact that the first map of the heavens is of Chinese origin. It was made about 600 B. C., and shows 1,430 stars.

"The Lady" With Norma Talmadge At California

"The Lady," in which Mary Nash scored such a big hit on the New York speaking stage, is Norma Talmadge's latest screen vehicle, "The Lady" which opened last night at the California theatre.

The special cast appearing in support of Norma includes Wallace MacDonald, her leading man; Alf Goulding, Brandon Hurst, Emily Fitzroy, George Hackathorne, Walter Long, Marc MacDermott, Dorris Lloyd, John Fox, Jr., Paulette Goddard, Edwin Hubbell, Lora Barn, John Herdman, Margaret Seddon, Miles McCarthy and Charles O'Malley.

Other features on the same program include Albert MacGillivray, the sweet tenor, in selected song numbers; Will Rogers in his latest comedy "Gee Whiz Genevieve!"; International News; Larry Canelo at the huge organ.

"The Tornado" will be here tomorrow.

"Wild Irish Rose" Is Wesley Church Film Friday Night

"My Wild Irish Rose," the feature photoplay to be given at the Wesley M. E. church on the family night program, Friday evening, at 7:15, is a thing of beauty and runs true to the atmosphere of the Emerald Isle. It abounds in dramatic situations. The arrest of the hero, his trial, banishment to Australia, his escape from the prison ship, a thrilling battle atop a cliff—these are but a few of them.

The story of "My Wild Irish Rose" is based on a play by the famous Dion Boucicault, embracing many high lights of melodrama and heart interest. The director has achieved an array of living and lovable characterizations that stand out with cameo brilliance.

The usual singing program will precede the picture, with Rev. C. G. Lindemann leading in community singing. A silver offering will be required to see the entire program.

San Francisco $1,250,000 addition to CHH hotel being rushed to completion.

When Kidneys Hurt Drink More Water

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water, and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

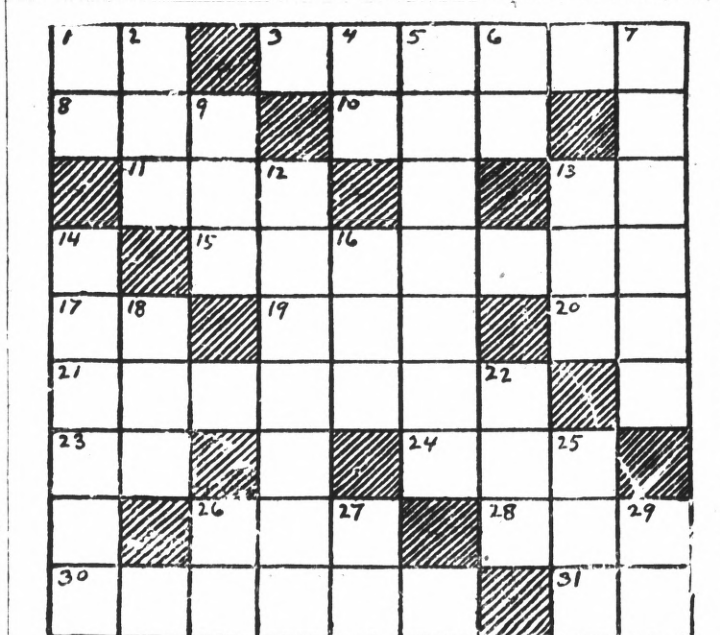

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Marion Davies In Film At Richmond

Marion Davies, the twenty-three-year-old star of Cosmopolitan productions, was born in Brooklyn, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Bernard Douglas. She attended the Brooklyn grammar school and entered a convent in New York City, specializing in dramatic arts, French literature and music. She was an apt pupil and several times completed in one year the regular studies of two. She left school when very young, being drawn to the stage. Living at home with her parents, she did not have the struggles nor hardships which many girls undergo. From the "Chin Chin" chorus she was chosen by several producers who wanted her in musical comedies and was cast in "Oh, Boy!"

When Harrison Fisher asked Miss Davies to pose for his delightful study, "Morning," there followed universal acknowledgment that hers was an extraordinary loveliness. Since that time the celebrated star has posed for the best artists in the country, including Howard Chandler Christy, W. T. Benda, Frank X. Leyendecker, Carl Linck, Penryn Stanlows and others.

After her appearance in "Oh, Boy!" Miss Davies was chosen for the Zeitgeist "Follies" and from there she went into pictures. She has made over a dozen pictures, all of them Cosmopolitan productions. Her wonderful interpretation of Princess Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" brought her praise from all over the world and gave her undisputed place as one of the best screen stars of the day. Her grip on stardom has been further strengthened by her portrayal of "Pat O'Brien" in "Little Old New York," directed by Sidney Olcott from Rida Johnson Young's stage play. It will be the attraction at the Richmond Theatre for the last time tonight.

"Bargain Days," a Cameo comedy, will be an added feature on the same program.

Laborer Dies at Local Hospital

Paul Tam, aged 46, and a native of Italy, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at a local hospital. The remains are at the Wilson and Kratzer parlors, where funeral arrangements are pending instructions from relatives in Nevada.

The deceased was a laborer, employed by the Standard Oil Company. He had been a resident of Twelfth street and Chanslor avenue for some time. He has no relatives in Richmond, nor in California so far as is known, but is survived by two brothers in Nevada.

FUNERAL IN OAKLAND

The funeral services of the late P. E. Lyons, extensive property owner of Richmond, were held from Brown's undertaking parlors in Oakland yesterday, and were attended by Arthur A. Alstrom, nephew of the deceased. Mr. Lyons was 59 years of age.

Richmond Moves To Condemn Lots To Widen Streets

Condemnation proceedings were filed in the superior court at Martinez yesterday by the City of Richmond against property owners on Standard avenue, for the purpose of securing the necessary land to widen that street.

Practically all of the property owners on the street were mentioned in the suit and many were given fictitious names for the purpose of the suit.

The filing of the proceedings is the outcome of considerable discussion on the part of the Richmond city council with the property owners, which has extended over a period of several months. The city sought to purchase the necessary property without suits but an agreement could not be reached.

It is the intention of the city to widen Standard avenue, which is the main thoroughfare leading to the Richmond-San Rafael ferry and to the Standard Oil Refinery, and over which the travel is very heavy during the summer months.

CONTRACTORS TO BE HOSTS TO BUILDERS

The painting and roofing contractors are to put on the entertainment at the monthly social of the Richmond Builders' exchange next Friday night at the exchange hall. The entertainment committee is headed by E. A. Marshall, and the assistants are F. A. and C. V. Mero, Leslie A. Jenks, J. S. Bowen, J. J. Burdon, Burner and Ellenberger, L. D. De Gregorio, Zeb Knott, N. D. Swartout. The social and banquet will be preceded by a short business meeting at 8 o'clock.

According to Secretary L. C. Dexter, more than fifty men have been placed on jobs during the past two weeks by the free employment bureau of the builders exchange. Dexter stated that there is no need for able-bodied men to be unemployed as extensive construction work is now going on, including the municipal bath house, Odd Fellows building, Richmond Syndicate Inc. building, Curry's garage and sales rooms, and the Rust-Campbell golf equipment factory.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS IN BUSINESS MEETING

The regular business meeting of Julia Duryea Tent, Daughters of Veterans, held in Richmond hall yesterday afternoon was presided over by Mrs. Sarah E. Brown, president. One member was initiated into the organization at this session. Mrs. Brown asked for a leave of absence from the next meeting as about the first of May she is leaving for Los Angeles for a two weeks vacation. The next meeting is to be held on Wednesday afternoon, May 6. Mrs. Brown delighted the other members with delicious refreshments late in the afternoon.

Plans are being made by the Daughters of Veterans to move into the new memorial hall in the near future.

SOCIETY
and ClubGirls Hi-Y Club
Enjoys Dinner;
Holds Discussion

Mrs. E. George Harlow, speaker of the evening, gave an address on "The Great American Living Woman" before approximately 52 members of the Girls' Hi-Y club at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The meeting was in conjunction with the regular monthly banquet. Dorothy Barbikas, president of the Girls' Hi-Y club of the Y. M. C. A., was the official wielder of the gavel at the very nice session last night.

Mrs. Harlow also conducted a contest in which she wrote a list of five famous women of California and required each member present to tell who they were. Nine girls gave correct answers so to decide who was to be awarded the prize a spelling contest was held.

Only one word was given to spell in the latter contest, but as the word was "Czecho Slovakia" it seemed to be sufficient. Evelyn Kalin was the only one of the nine who was able to spell the word correctly.

Mrs. Harlow also presented the club with $27 which were raised by the One-Minute girls, a war-time organization which was headed by Mrs. Harlow. Since the war, the club has not been needed so has died out.

Miss Florence Clark was present as a guest of the club last night and was announced as a new leader of the girls' Hi-Y club in the discussion group. Mrs. J. H. Plate was also a guest of the club last night. Josephine Dahl was in charge of the dinner committee.

At the next meeting the members will discuss "Choosing Life's Work." Ruby Tully was added to the business women's gymnasium class last night.

Mooseheart To Hold Fancy
Work Whist Party

Extensive plans are being made by the Women of Mooseheart Legion for the big fancy work candidates' whist to be given in Moose hall on the evening of May 6. At the meeting of the Legion in Moose hall last night, the work for the beautiful prizes that are to be offered to the lucky prize winners was given out. Mrs. Marie Lee Kelly and Mrs. Frances Lods are on the committee on arrangements for the affair.

The entertainment after last night's meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. Vallie Scholer, senior regent, consisted of a chain race party under the charge of Vera Glasby, Mrs. H. K. Martin, Maris Northcott, Mrs. Dora Parnell and Mrs. Scholer. This same committee had charge of the lovely refreshments served late in the evening.

All the members of the Legion are urged to attend a meeting next Thursday night at the home of Mrs. M. J. Kelly, 905 Florida, at which the sewing club will be organized and named. Mrs. Kelly is president of the club and Mrs. Loda secretary-treasurer.

POCAHONTAS TO HOLD
WHIST PARTY TONIGHT

Members of the Degree of Pocahontas wish to call the attention of the public to the whist party to be held under their auspices in the Redmen's hall tonight, starting at 8:30. Several valuable prizes will be awarded and the admission price is only 25 cents. Mrs. Ann Sullivan is chairman of the party.

Local Couple in Suit For Divorce

Charging her husband with extreme cruelty, Bernice Tittley yesterday brought suit for divorce against Joseph Tittley, through attorneys Calfee and Dunnell, of Richmond. Mrs. Tittley alleges that her husband told her he did not love her, and on one occasion struck her. They were married in Oakland, November 10, 1924, and separated March 31, 1925. The complaint asks to be restored to her maiden name of Bernice Gillis, and to be awarded costs of the suit and attorneys fees.

High School Team Beats Firemen

It was terrible, even enough to make the tears stream in rivers down the cheeks of the sphinx. It was the farcical ball game between the firemen and the high school, which ended in necessity in the second inning with a score of 2 to 3 standing against the said firemen. The firemen's team that was on the field had been named by some optimist or else some very rotten practical joker, Class B of the fire department. They should have been named Class Z minus.

The first inning went off pretty nicely with the firemen scoring only 2 runs and the high school 4 and the fans were beginning to nurse expectations of seeing something interesting. But alas, in the second, there were 21 runs scored. When the first of the school boys came to the plate they started the ball rolling in every sense of the word. To say that the ensuing minutes were a merry-go-round would be describing the situation all too mildly. The firemen reminded everyone of Narmi, they were so different.

In the second Dick Paasch of the school went to the plate three times. Of the three trips he made three hits, and incidentally three runs.

In the entire two innings Gualdoni swung his bat four times, clouting out three hits. O'Brien, also facing the hurler 4 times, made two hits and got on twice on errors.

"Cowboy Dick" Millicovich, who was heard in various quarters previous to the alleged game freely predicting the fact of the high school, was no where in evidence after said conflict, having disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him up. No doubt he is wishing it had.

Assistant Chief Barry was the kick of the afternoon however. The high school pitcher used indiscretion enough to hit him a rap on the foot. The arbiter informed him that it was his duty to take the base. The chief wanted to know where he was to take it to, and declared that as he had no use for the canvas pad, he didn't want it. To avoid filling his pockets with bases, Barry insisted that he not hurt. Finally he was availed upon to go to first.

Couch Hill had to drag his men repeatedly so that the score could be kept by the boy in charge of

McRacken Team Plays Martinez

Manager Snowden of the McRacken baseball club will take his gang of tossers who defeated Pittsburgh last Sunday to Martinez, on next Sunday to tackle the strong aggregation of the latter city. Great hopes are entertained by the McRacken team, as well as by all the rest of the contestants in the city league race, that they will walk off with bunting.

SORE CHEST AND NERVOUSNESS

In an Oakland Court on January 29, 1925, hundreds of people heard the testimony of Mr. D. Abille of Mt. Eden and of Mr. J. Duarte of San Leandro, both of whom had been called as witnesses at a trial of Fong Wan by the Medical Board.

These men testified before the jury that the Fong Wan Herbs had permanently relieved both Sore Chest and Nervousness, and had made them strong and able to go back to work again.

They claim that no other treatment has repeatedly been vindicated in court and proved to be an effective as the Fong Wan Herbs.

This testimony was given in the first trial of Fong Wan in the latest campaign of the Medical Board against the Chinese Herbalists about the Bay.

APRIL 30 SET BY LEGION AS AMERICAN DAY

National headquarters of the American Legion has set Thursday, April 30, to be observed as Americanism Day throughout the country. This year marks the fifth annual roll call under the auspices of the Legion of all patriotic, fraternal, educational and civic forces to emphasize the ideals and principals of American citizenship.

All religious denominations throughout the Nation have been urged to speak, Sunday, May 3, on the subject "For God and Country."

Americanism Day was inaugurated by the Legion to offset the propaganda and efforts of the communists and extreme radicals to spread lawlessness and violence throughout the world on May day, with their hope of bringing ultimate destruction to the government of the United States.

The 303 American Legion posts in California have been called upon by Morgan Keaton, state chairman of the Americanism committee to hold suitable exercises in their respective communities and to especially welcome at that time all newly made American citizens.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS FORMER GOVERNOR TALK

George C. Pardee, former governor of California, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday. He spoke very forcefully and said in part:

"There be peace-time traitors, there be peace-time slackers as well as war-time traitors and war-time slackers."

"All good American citizens ought to take an active interest in poli-

Above (left) are Mrs. Horace E. Dodge and Mrs. John F. Dodge, widows of the brothers who founded the Dodge Motor Company. The financial world was startled by the recent announcement that the Dodge motor interests had been bought by a group of bankers for more than $50,000,000. Twenty millions each is to be paid the Dodge brothers estate.

The old town hall meeting in New England should be revived in this country."

Bill Hill, Oakland poet, read two original poems that especially appealed to the memories of the hearers. His experiences with the Navajo and Hopi Indians in the Arizona bad lands were told by H. Welby. A great ovation was given the Kiwanis quartet from Oakland which offered three numbers.

The Oakland club had the entire program under its charge and President "Hank" Wehrmann, of that club, was in possession of the little hammer.

Some of the ideals of the organization were given in a short talk by Abe Leach, district governor. Oakland and Berkeley were represented by 35 visitors. The chairman of next week's meeting will be John A. Long.

ACCIDENT CASE HEARD

The suit of Patrick Nugent against Frederick Greenberg, as a result of an auto accident, was taken under advisement by Justice John Roth yesterday morning. Nugent is asking $74.75 to cover damages to his mathe alleged clinic was held she said. At one time during the day Dr. E. A. Leatherwood, an osteopath, who was present at the clinic, jumped around and amused the students by throwing wads of cotton at them. This caused great commotion among the fourteen followers of Cosper, Mrs. Dietrich said.

The courtroom was crowded with representatives of two factions. Many followers of Cosper were present as well as a great many who oppose his methods of "healing." Cosper's defense, it was hinted, will be that he only administered to Mrs. Dietrich in the form of prayer and that such acts are not a violation of the law.

Deputy District Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs, who is conducting the prosecution, announced that today he will call Otto Dietrich, husband of the complaining witness, to the stand. Two physicians will also testify.

ANNEX CLUB TO APPOINT FIRE COMMISSIONERS

At the eighteenth regular meeting of the Richmond Annex Improvement club held in Huber hall Tuesday night, W. M. Hartsnick, J. B. Willis and A. B. Schwartz were selected for appointment as fire commissioners for the Richmond Annex. The district attorney's office received a petition for appointment of three fire commissioners for the Annex and the following were nominated and voted on by the club for the recommendation as commissioner: W. M. Hartsnick, 20 votes; J. B. Willis, 16 votes; A. B. Schwartz, 15 votes; C. R. Meyers, 12 votes; J. W. Frank, 11 votes; P. L. Dixon, 6 votes; and H. B. Hollenbaugh, 4 votes.

Mrs. H. B. Hollenbaugh, assisted at the piano by Mrs. D. Carter, led the community singing that opened the meeting. A talk was given by Wilbur S. Pierce, city attorney of El Cerrito. The next meeting of the club will be on April 27, and starting May 4, the club will hold meetings on the first and third Mondays of the month.

The members were entertained, after the business session, by piano and vocal duet by Miss May and Miss Isabelle Little, and a song by F. E. Welsh, accompanied at the piano by Miss Little. Pierce also recited a poem entitled, "An Ideal Friend."

Mrs. Wright represented Mrs. D. B. Ralph, president of the P. T. A. and she extended an open invitation to all the ladies to attend a meeting of the association at the school house on May 5 at 2 p. m.

Attorneys Win Alameda Cases

Two cases were won by the law firm of Pierce and Carlson in the Oakland and Berkeley courts yesterday. Wilbur Pierce acted as defense counsel for Frank McGill, who was acquitted of a charge of disturbing the peace of El Cerrito in the court of Judge Edgar in Berkeley. The defendant was arrested on a charge of two women, who alleged he pursued them at a late hour of the night while they were walking to their Berkeley home.

T. N. Carlson, successfully defended Hazel Wood, who was charged with embezzlement. Judge Hennessy of Oakland handled the case.
